There are few things as special as preparing and sharing a magical meal with those you love—and many covetable items go into making these memories. Whether you're searching for a gift for a natural wine enthusiast, whisky expert, talented chef, aspiring cook, or someone who simply loves to discover new flavors, our Eat, Drink and Be Merry Gift Guide brims with new ideas. From cookbooks to candy and saucepans to serving trays, there's something here to please everyone. And for ideas beyond food and drink, our full BUY section is updated daily.

Montelea Estate Cabernet Sauvignon 2015

This expressive Cabernet Sauvignon from Calistoga, Napa Valley boasts notes of dried cherries, baking spices, and espresso beans on first open. On the palate, blackberry jam and bright acid counteract its denser aromas. But, as Chateau Montelena explains, further resting results in more complex notes of dried ginger, anise and cocoa. A lovely wine to share over the colder months, it's rich and full-bodied.
